SWANA is an organization of professionals committed to advancing from solid waste management to resource management through their shared emphasis on education, advocacy, and research.

In doing so, we provide professional development and networking opportunities to solid waste professionals in every part of the industry – benefiting individual members while also furthering the work of the profession.

As a member of the leading association for solid waste and recycling professionals, you have access to the resources you need to succeed, as well as leadership opportunities and connections to further your career.

We value your membership and want to be sure you are taking advantage of the many resources available to you.

While this guide provides a brief overview of the key benefits your professional association offers, be sure to visit SWANA.org for the very latest in SWANA’s:

- Networking and Events
- Training and Certification
- Chapter Membership
- Advocacy
- Industry Information and Publications
- Safety Resources

SWANA membership allows you to interact with other solid waste professionals and develop a professional network that will be an invaluable asset to your career for years to come.

SWANA is a supporting organization of the American Academy of Environmental Engineers (AAEE) and a National Member of the International Solid Waste Association (ISWA) for the United States and Canada.

SWANA Chapters

SWANA.org/chapters

As a member of one of SWANA's 47 Chapters, you'll be connected at the state/province level with solid waste professionals to help advance your career. Led by dedicated volunteers, each Chapter works hard to keep its members informed about the latest issues and trends in the industry, while educating and advising local officials on industry issues. Chapters host tours, events, in-person and online training opportunities, Road-E-O competitions, golf outings, and other informal networking events.

Members-Only Private Social Network

community.SWANA.org/home

Members have access to our members-only private social network, MySWANA, where you can connect with your fellow SWANA members through our online Members Directory. You can search for professionals by industry-specific criteria or technical division, name, location, or "likeness" to you.

SWANA Events

SWANA.org/events

SWANA hosts two conferences each year, including WASTECON®, SWANA's leadership summit, that brings together thousands of solid waste professionals for the very best education, networking and exhibits.

SWANA Young Professionals (YPs) SWANA.org/YP411

SWANA YPs are individuals, age 35 or younger, who represent the future of the solid waste and recycling industry.

The group includes a vast network of members who are passionate about the environment, the industry, and helping each other succeed. Resources include YP-focused networking opportunities at events and online. Members also receive opportunities to grow professionally through leadership positions, volunteering, and mentorship.

MentorMatch

SWANA.org/mentormatch

MentorMatch is SWANA's online members-only mentoring program that connects experienced professionals (mentors) with their fellow colleagues, assisting them with career guidance (mentees). Collaborate on professional growth practices needed for advancement in the solid waste management and recycling industry.

Technical Divisions

SWANA.org/techdivisions

Members are connected to others in their field who share the same interests and are meeting the same challenges. Technical Divisions are free to first-year members.

- Collection & Transfer
- Communication, Education, & Marketing
- Landfill Gas & Biogas
- Landfill Management
- Planning & Management
- Sustainable Materials Management
- Waste Conversion & Energy Recovery

Idea Sharing

Network with more than 7,000 other division members at Technical Division Meetings held during SWANA events and through online communication tools. Each division has an exclusive-access online community forum on MySWANA where members go to solicit feedback and share ideas and advice; it's your own virtual town square for every area of interest.

Help Shape the Future of SWANA

Assist in the development of technical programs for conferences and events, or guide technical policy development and advocacy initiatives. Each Technical Division provides volunteer opportunities through its committees on a fixed term or project basis, so you can volunteer as your time permits.

Safety Focus

SWANA.org/safety

Waste and recycling collection has the fifth highest fatality rate of any job in the United States. With a commitment to improving this professional safety record, SWANA is leading the industry by providing members with the latest resources and information. This includes monthly "Safety Matters" articles in the newsletter and weekly Safety Monday tip sheets straight to your inbox.

News and Publications

Members receive free subscriptions to MSW Management. Members also receive I Am SWANA News—SWANA's bi-monthly newsletter, which includes the latest news and updates from SWANA and the Technical Divisions.

SWANA's eLibrary MySWANA.org

Access the archive of SWANA event proceedings, as well as thousands of documents, presentations, videos, and industry publications, all available 24/7, in our members-only eLibrary.

Advocacy SWANA.org/advocacy

SWANA Advocacy provides members with real-time updates on the latest developments in legislation and rules that affect you. As a member, you also can become involved with industry advocacy initiatives, giving you a voice on the issues that matter most.

Applied Research Foundation (ARF) SWANA.org/arf

With the mission of “advancing the practice” by conducting collectively funded research on the most pressing solid waste issues—as identified by Foundation subscribers—SWANA provides members the very latest reports and information. This high-value content is available at up to 50 percent off, and often absolutely free, as a member benefit.

SWANA Training

SWANA.org/training

Held at SWANA events or hosted by SWANA Chapters, training centers offer high-value classroom learning delivered by SWANA Certified Faculty members.

SWANA Training@Work

Our Training@Work program brings SWANA's nationally recognized training program, and one of our Certified Faculty instructors, directly to your location of choice to teach the class. This cost-effective option allows for greater flexibility and less downtime. Our workplace training solutions offer outstanding return on investment and protect your bottom-line.

SWANA Training@HQ

SWANA's Headquarters hosts courses throughout the year in our office in Silver Spring, Maryland.

SWANA Training@Home

Continue your education at your own pace from the comfort and convenience of your home or office. Study at your own pace. Passage of the final exam is required to receive CEU credits.

SWANA eLearning

Just “click, learn, and earn.” Take advantage of a broad selection of online education offerings while earning CEUs.

- Webinars—Presented by industry leaders, SWANA Webinars cover a wide range of timely and relevant topics.
- Certification Prep Courses—Live and Recorded Certification Prep courses help you master the certification exam to enhance your professional credentials.
- Self-Paced Courses—SWANA self-paced online training courses can be completed whenever it's most convenient for you.

Safety

SWANA.org/safety

SWANA is leading the charge toward creating a safer work environment for all solid waste professionals. By providing the latest safety information and training to our members, SWANA helps educate and advance awareness of best safety practices in the workplace. These valuable resources include:
